I am a competent, motivated designer who graduated from the University of the West of England with a first class degree in graphic design. In September 09 I secured a work placement at Pentagram Design where I furthered my creative and technical skills. I engage with every brief I am set and strive to complete each project to the best possible standard. Pushing myself to new levels by being a researcher, an author and a designer has broadened my creative horizons. Now I am looking to build a successful career within the design industry where I can offer my dedication, skill set and enthusiasm.

| Education |

University of the West of England,
Bristol, 2006 - 2009
BA (Hons) Graphic Design - first class degree.

University College for the Creative Arts,
Epsom, 2005 - 2006
Foundation Diploma, specialising in graphic design.

| Employment |

Student Ambassador,
November 2007 - May 2009
Showing future students around the university campus and answering any questions regarding student life.

The Tart Newspaper,
January 2007
I illustrated for the entertainment section of the paper. The drawings were satirical, mainly of celebrities that were in the media at the current time of the issue.

Buzz Temping Agency,
July 2006 - August 2007
I worked mainly in catering and was sent to various locations including the Kingston County Council. I had to adjust quickly to many different environments and work with a range of new people most weeks.

| Work Experience |

Pentagram Design Ltd,
London, September 2009
At Pentagram I worked under the direction of Harry Pearce, helping with the re-branding of Budgens, and designing a poster for American charity WITNESS. Whilst working within a highly motivated and fast moving team I was able to build upon my organisational and time management skills.
